

IVAN AND VERL JORDAN

Ivan and Verl Jordan lived among Indigenous people in the Northern Territory from 1973 to 2004, and long to see Indigenous believers following Jesus “their way”, living, worshipping and serving Jesus in forms consistent with their rich Indigenous culture.

Now living in Tasmania, Ivan continues to make himself and his wisdom available to the team and church leaders in the Northern Territory.

He visits the Northern Territory twice a year to prepare for and participate in the leaders’ training camps. A priority in the leaders’ training camps is to help Indigenous leaders find ways of expressing gospel truth and biblical teaching in authentically Indigenous forms.

Verl’s direct involvement with Indigenous communities is now largely behind her, but her support and encouragement of Ivan and her communication with the team and Indigenous believers are significant.
